

The land that is today Shadow Cliffs Regional Recreation Area in Pleasanton was formerly a gravel quarry, and was donated to the East Bay Regional Park District by Kaiser Industries. Its assessed value of $250,000 was used to obtain a matching grant for development of the park from the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

With this start, the Park District has developed a 249-acre park, including an 80-acre lake and a four-flume waterslide. There is ample parking, there are many picnic tables (some reservable; call 510-636-1684), and there are facilities for the disabled.
